WELCOME

Happy 50th birthday to football's 'bible'.

For five decades the iconic reference book has faithfully recorded every detail of the game that entrances millions. So much has changed but so much is the same. Beautiful, intoxicating, football is a constant, bookending those 50 years.

In 1970, the world huddled around new colour television sets, thrilled by the flashing golden shirts of Pelé's Brazil, arguably the finest World Cup team of all time. Fast forward to 2019, and we've been privileged to witness perhaps the most remarkable denouement of any English football season.

One giddy and breathless week in May, starting with the purest of Vincent Kompany strikes and rolling into the craziest of fight-backs from Liverpool and Spurs, encapsulated a thrilling year. City held their nerve to retain the title and Liverpool ended the season with glory in Madrid. Pep Guardiola, Mauricio Pochettino and Jurgen Klopp have elevated football in this country to a new level of technical and tactical excellence. The way the game is played has changed. But its ability to capture our hearts and minds is undiminished.

Those magnificent games are just the headlines. The joy of the Football Yearbook is that it tells the whole story: it records every detail of every team, however painful that may be for some of us.

In these pages, the 'Voice of Football', John Motson, reflects on what 50 years of the Yearbook mean to him, and you can also read the thoughts of The Sun's Head of Sport and Chief Football Reporter, Shaun Custis and Neil Ashton respectively, about the events of last season.

Then relax into more than a thousand pages inside the Football Yearbook's distinctive cover and luxuriate in the minutiae that made up a magnificent year of football. Yes, the summer is for dreaming about who our team will sign and what they can do next season: but before that, take time to soak up season 2018–19.

The Sun was proud to rescue the Football Yearbook last season – indeed our football-mad readers would never have forgiven us if we had not – and we are delighted to be its sponsor in this special golden anniversary year.

In an age when facts and stats spill in their thousands from our TVs and our phones, and when pundits bicker over the inexorable march of VAR technology, there's something comforting about sliding the latest edition onto the bookshelf alongside those 49 others.

Motty calls this tome his 'bible'. If it's good enough for him...

Tony Gallagher, Editor-in-Chief, The Sun

Cover of the first edition of the Football Yearbook, 1970–71.

INTRODUCTION

The 50th edition of the Football Yearbook is our second in association with The Sun and includes every game of the inaugural UEFA Nations League, plus full coverage of the European Qualifying campaign for Euro 2020 including match line-ups and league tables. Other international football at various levels is also well catered for in this edition.

The concise feature entitled Cups and Ups and Downs Diary is included with dates of those events affecting cup finals, promotion and relegation issues. The Managers In and Out section is once again included, with a diary of managerial changes throughout the year.

At European level, the Champions League has its usual comprehensive details included, with results, goalscorers, attendances, full line-ups and formations from the qualifying rounds onwards and also including all the league tables from the respective group stages. The Europa League includes full line-ups and formations from the group stages onwards.

The 2018–19 season ended as another record-breaking one for Pep Guardiola's Manchester City, winning all three domestic trophies and reaching the semi-final of the Champions League. Raheem Sterling of Manchester City and England won the Football Writers' Footballer of the Year award and Liverpool's Virgil van Dijk won the PFA Player of the Year award. The Championship season ended with Norwich City and Sheffield United promoted automatically, and they were joined by Aston Villa who won the Championship Play-Off 2-1 against Derby County at Wembley.

All of these statistics are reproduced in the pages devoted not only to the Premier League, but the three Football League competitions too, as well as all major allied cup competitions.

In women's football, the Women's FIFA World Cup European qualification campaign and the FIFA World Cup Finals from France are covered. The Women's Super League, Championship and National Leagues are included, together with the domestic cup competitions: Women's FA Cup and League Cup. The Women's UEFA Champions League is also covered. England Women's Internationals since 1974 and all of the 2018–19 season's games are included.

While transfer fees are invariably those reported at the time and rarely given as official figures, the edition reflects those listed at the time.

In the club-by-club pages that contain the line-ups of all league matches, appearances are split into starting and substitute appearances. In the Players Directory the totals show figures combined.

The Players Directory and its accompanying A to Z index enables the reader to quickly find the club of any specific player.

Throughout the book players sent off are designated with ▪; substitutes in the club pages are 12, 13 and 14. Included again in main cup competitions are the formations for each team.

In addition to competitions already mentioned there is full coverage of Scottish Premiership, Scottish Football League and Scottish domestic cup competitions. There are also sections devoted to Welsh and Irish football, Under-21s and various other UEFA youth levels, schools, reserve team, academies, referees and the leading non-league competitions as well as the work of club chaplains. The chief tournaments outside the UK at club and national level are not forgotten. The International Directory itself features Europe in some depth as well as every FIFA-affiliated country's international results for the year since July 2018; every reigning league and cup champion worldwide is listed.

Naturally there are international appearances and goals scored by players for England, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Wales and the Republic of Ireland. For easy reference, those players making appearances and scoring goals in the season covered are picked out in bold type.

The Football Yearbook would like to extend its appreciation to the publishers Headline for excellent support in the preparation of this edition, particularly Jonathan Taylor for photographic selection throughout the book and to Graham Green for his continued support.

Their unwavering dedication, diligence and attention to detail are the cornerstone of its continued success. All of the contributors over the past 50 years are also thanked.

DREAM TEAM

The 2018–19 Dream Team season really belonged to a genius who blitzed the rest of the field.

Eden Hazard's parting gifts to Chelsea before his long-awaited move to Real Madrid this summer were securing a top-four spot and the Europa League trophy. And his spellbinding performances across the season saw him rack up a stunning 360 points on Dream Team – a full 48 ahead of his nearest challenger.

Hazard notched 21 goals, 17 assists and an incredible 18 Star Man awards in all competitions, registering the eighth highest individual points total in Dream Team history. In fact, the brilliant Belgian effectively scooped the Man of the Match award more than once every three appearances across the season.

FWA Footballer of the Year Raheem Sterling was Hazard's closest rival after the Manchester City and England man's stunning individual term. Sterling made waves on and off the field in 2018–19 and was the only other player to break the 300-point barrier as City became the first English club to win the domestic treble.

Behind Sterling came last season's leading points-scorer Mo Salah, Arsenal hitman Pierre-Emerick Aubameyang and City's all-time top goal getter Sergio Aguero.

PFA Player of the Year Virgil van Dijk recorded the second highest total ever for a defender with 282 points, but was still some way short of John Terry's record of 368 in the 2004–05 season.

Van Dijk's Liverpool team-mates Trent Alexander-Arnold and Andy Robertson were Dream Team must-haves too, amassing an incredible 446 points between them.

Salah was by far the most picked player on the game with 60.8% ownership, with van Dijk, Aguero, Sadio Mané and Hazard making up the rest of the top five.

Away from the household names there was joy for some less familiar faces. Wolves full-back Matt Doherty rose to prominence with some hugely impressive performances, whilst Ryan Fraser matched Hazard for assists and outscored Riyad Mahrez for points.

Liverpool goalkeeper Alisson was the highest-scoring new signing with 209 points, closely followed by Wolves striker Raul Jimenez and Everton full-back Lucas Digne.

But it wasn't a success story for everyone this season. Alexis Sanchez smashed 348 points back in the 2016–17 campaign, but his fall from grace in the last couple of years has been drastic. The Manchester United flop managed just 36 points in the entirety of 2018–19 – just six points more than Gerard Deulofeu recorded in one game for Watford against Cardiff.

It wasn't much better for Sanchez's disgruntled United team-mate David de Gea.

The Spaniard's clean sheets dried up massively and he was outscored by the likes of Neil Etheridge, Martin Dubravka and Vicente Guaita. Mesut Özil's anonymity was evident with just 72 points, while the less said about Christian Benteke the better. But spare a thought for Huddersfield's Chris Löwe, who finished rock bottom of the player rankings with an eye-watering 28 points. Blimey.

So what can we expect on Dream Team next season? Well the usual suspects will be popular again, with the likes of Salah, Sterling and Harry Kane all vying to fill the Hazard-shaped hole at the top of the player rankings. Salah and Kane were the joint most expensive players before the season started last summer, but the latter's injury record will be a worry for both Spurs fans and Dream Team managers.

We are anticipating even bigger things from some of the younger contingent, with the likes of Alexander-Arnold, Bernardo Silva and James Maddison all ready to take the next step.

Big things are expected of Chelsea new boy Christian Pulisic: will the American feel burdened by replacing Hazard amidst the Blues' debilitating transfer ban?

And after an injury-ravaged campaign, everyone will be hoping City maestro Kevin De Bruyne can sprinkle his magic again by returning to full fitness.

Dream Team has some bold and exciting new plans for the 2019–20 season, with not one, not two, but THREE different game formats available to play.

As well as the classic Season game and the hugely popular short-form version Weekender, Dream Team is launching a Draft game too to bring a completely different dimension to fantasy football. Unlike traditional formats, Draft really tests your managerial nous with an NFL-style player selection process taking place before the season starts. Only one manager in each mini-league can own a player. So if you snap up Salah in the draft, nobody else can have him. Simple as that.

It all makes for a mouth-watering new season on Dream Team, which gets underway when European champions Liverpool host newly promoted Norwich City on 9 August. To get involved and for any further details, head to dreamteamfc.com.

TEAM OF THE SEASON 2018–19

NEIL ASHTON, CHIEF FOOTBALL REPORTER, THE SUN

Alisson Becker
(Liverpool)

Trent Alexander-Arnold (Liverpool) | Virgil van Dijk (Liverpool) | Joel Matip (Liverpool) | Andy Robertson (Liverpool)

Raheem Sterling (Manchester City) | Jordan Henderson (Liverpool) | Bernardo Silva (Manchester City)

Mo Salah (Liverpool) | Sergio Aguero (Manchester City) | Sadio Mané (Liverpool)

Manager: Pep Guardiola
(Manchester City)

Alisson Becker: it is a close call with Manchester City's keeper Ederson, but Alisson's commanding debut season at Liverpool ended with a Champions League medal swinging around his neck. Liverpool conceded just 22 goals in the Premier League, but Alisson's composure and presence in Europe was telling.

Trent Alexander-Arnold: humble, down-to-earth kid who claims he is just a normal boy from Liverpool. The reality is that Alexander-Arnold is redefining the role of right-back by adding a steady supply of crosses and match-winning moments. His cheeky, improvised corner against Barcelona in the Champions League semi-final was further proof of his game intelligence.

Virgil van Dijk: the PFA Player of the Year will be remembered for his immaculate interception of Son Heung-Min during the Champions League final against Tottenham. He laughed when he was compared to the great centre-halves – Nesta, Maldini, Baresi – but he is well on the way to becoming one of the best defenders of all time.

Joel Matip: turned into the enforcer after winning a place alongside van Dijk in the centre of Liverpool's defence. While van Dijk drops deep to sweep up, Matip is sent in to make the first challenge when Liverpool try to win the ball back. A true warrior, this Sami Hyypia-style defender gets the nod over Manchester City's much-improved Aymeric Laporte.

Andy Robertson: involved in his own friendly battle with team-mate Trent Alexander-Arnold to provide the most assists from his position at full-back. He got 11 last season in the Premier League, adding another dynamic element to this intoxicating, compelling Liverpool side. Finished the season in style by captaining his country, Scotland.

Raheem Sterling: finished the season with the richly deserved FWA Footballer of the Year award to commemorate another successful season with Manchester City. As well as scoring 17 times in their title defence, Sterling also made people think with a challenging Instagram post about discrimination. He is a classy footballer and a measured campaigner.

Jordan Henderson: his endless, ceaseless, selfless running during Liverpool's incredible journey to a sixth European Cup merits inclusion. He has risen to Jurgen Klopp's challenge, influencing Liverpool's attacks in their spellbinding run to the final and adding a layer of protection to their back four. An outstanding individual.

Bernardo Silva: scored just seven goals for City in their title-winning season, but the feeling is that Bernardo is only just getting going. As the influence of David Silva starts to fade after his glorious career at the Etihad, Bernardo's performances last season suggest he will go on to win the hearts of City supporters in the years to come.

Mo Salah: followed up on his double of FWA and PFA awards in 2018 by scoring 22 times in the Premier League. Although many felt that his form dipped, Salah was instrumental in keeping Liverpool's title challenge alive and played a crucial role in their run to the Champions League final. A true great.

Sergio Aguero: he has scored 20-plus goals for Manchester City in each of his last five seasons. His appetite is undiminished, continuing to score goals as Pep Guardiola's side hunted down a domestic quadruple of Community Shield, FA Cup, Carabao Cup and the defence of the Premier League. When his career finally turns full circle and Aguero returns to finish his career in Argentina, the Premier League will miss him.

Sadio Mané: his Liverpool career really took off last season after scoring 22 times in 37 Premier League appearances. With his fast, direct, ruthless running, Mané has emerged as an alternative attacking threat for this great Liverpool side. Finished the season winning the penalty for Liverpool after just 23 seconds of the Champions League final.

Manager, Pep Guardiola: sees off Jurgen Klopp – his obvious and only rival – because he held his nerve in the final weeks of the season to successfully defend Manchester City's Premier League title. To win four trophies in domestic football is exceptional, but Liverpool's Champions League success means the pressure is on City to finally land the European Cup this season.

FOREWORD

talkSPORT's* JOHN MOTSON

In the summer of 1970 I received an invitation to a small book launch at the old Rothmans building in Pall Mall. Rothmans was a tobacco manufacturer at the time but had decided to put money behind a new football yearbook. I travelled down to London with Gerald Sinstadt. Gerald was already an extremely established commentator at ITV, while I was still making my way as a young reporter on the BBC. Back then, there weren't so many people covering football. Gerald and I were joined by a handful of journalists and a couple of television presenters who shuffled into the Rothmans showroom for the launch.

Rothmans had made a bit of a show of it by bringing along one or two football personalities. Who they were, I couldn't tell you now. What I do remember, and so vividly, is getting my hands on the first edition and flicking through all the facts and stats in amazement. Gerald was a big statistician. He looked at me and said: 'Wow! We've been waiting for something like this for years.'

Half a century on and I own all 49 editions. The collection has pride of place on the bookcase in my study. Every year, as the new season dawned, the first thing I thought of was getting the latest Football Yearbook. As the years have gone by the book has grown with new sections because there's much more information to be absorbed now. Nothing on the internet can quite match the delight in pulling one of the past editions off the shelf and referring to the printed word, which I do every day.

For those of us covering sport, the Football Yearbook changed the game. There were other annuals that came out before it, but the Rothmans broke new ground because it was far more comprehensive and far more detailed than any others. It covered everything, from the European game to youth football. But it was the section on clubs which was revolutionary compared to what we had seen before. Every player was listed and every match recorded from the previous season. There were the most obscure facts in there, records that we had never seen before in print. For those of us who collected these books, it was an eye-opener; for reporters covering the game, it was an absolute godsend because you had it all in front of you. It became a bible for us.

I had not really graduated into full-time commentary at that stage, though. I was a sports news reporter on the old BBC Radio 2, reading everything from the racing results to news from leagues across the country. But, funnily enough, my move to Match of the Day came in September 1971 after the Football Yearbook's first full season, so I really was a football commentator from the start of the Rothmans series.

In the beginning, I used to take it to all the games. Be it Hillsborough or The Hawthorns, the Football Yearbook was in my bag. It was fairly heavy to carry about but it was my insurance, a trusty back-up. As a commentator it was invaluable: it gave us much more information and saved us a lot of time. In the later years, I wouldn't take it out of the house too often through fear of losing it and not being able to get another copy. Instead, the Yearbook would come into its own on a Thursday and Friday as I flicked through it in preparation for the weekend. It had everything I needed on the two teams I was covering. By the time Saturday came, all of that homework was done and I could rest assured my facts were correct.

The world has changed nowadays but it is special to have everything in a beautifully bound book, to turn the page and get the reference you need. It became the Wisden of football. Wisden was a recognised source of reference for a cricket enthusiast that fans wanted to see; 'the Rothmans' became exactly that for football due to the extent of detail and reliability.

If something is in print, even these days, you tend to think you can trust it because it has been published in ink. We would talk about the Rothmans as a reference point. 'That's what the Rothmans tells me,' we'd say, because of its accuracy. Nothing has ever matched it. In those 50 years, no other football book – and certainly no other football reference book – has come near it.

Credit for such exceptional success belongs to two individuals in particular. Jack Rollin, the former Sunday Telegraph columnist, who I worked with at the BBC, edited the book for decades; his daughter, Glenda, became involved in later years. If anyone deserves the most plaudits for the way the Football Yearbook has been written and developed over the years it is Jack and Glenda. Without their devotion and dedication, it would not have continued to be produced to such a high standard.

There was a threat of the book dying out in 2018, however. I remember it all very clearly. It was The Sun that broke the story: they rung me up for my thoughts and I said how horrified I was, that it was a bad day in the history of football journalism. It was, then, The Sun who stepped in to keep the annual going and I'm absolutely thrilled that it's still where it is today, celebrating half a century.

All I can say is, I hope there's another 50 years to come.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON 2018–19

It was a season unlike any other that had gone before as Manchester City landed an unprecedented domestic treble of Premier League title, Carabao Cup and FA Cup.

According to their charismatic boss Pep Guardiola, it ought to have been recognised as a quadruple: the Community Shield victory against Chelsea should be counted in the trophy haul too, he argued. Hence City were labelled 'The Fourmidables'.

It was an astonishing achievement. This was a team which, a year earlier, had set a Premier League records for points (100) and goals scored (106). In winning the title again, they were only two points and 11 goals adrift of those marks. But while 2017–18 had been something of a canter as they romped in 19 points clear of second-placed Manchester United, this was a battle right to the very end.

Jurgen Klopp's Liverpool were still chasing City hard on the last day, only to finish an agonising one point behind in their quest for a first Premier League crown. City had to win their final 14 games in a row to see them off. The Reds, marshalled by PFA Player of the Year Virgil van Dijk, only lost once in the entire campaign, a January defeat at the home of the champions which turned out to be pivotal. Mind you, the long-range late rocket by City captain Vincent Kompany against Leicester in their penultimate match will be the goal which defines their title win in the same way Sergio Aguero's did in 2012.

It was a special way for Kompany to end his City career as he departed for Anderlecht after 11 years at the club. 'I knew then I was done,' he said. 'I couldn't do anything better.'

City claimed the Carabao Cup on penalties against Chelsea in a final which will be remembered for Blues' keeper Kepa Arrizabalaga refusing to come off when manager Maurizio Sarri wanted to substitute him ahead of the shoot-out, believing him to be injured.

The FA Cup final may not be fondly recalled by Watford keeper Heurelho Gomes either. He conceded six as City equalled Bury's 1903 record victory. Raheem Sterling was denied a first final hat-trick since Stan Mortensen in 1953 when it was ruled that a Gabriel Jesus shot was already over the line before he smashed it into the net. Had he been awarded the third goal it would have been some conclusion to a season in which Sterling was at the forefront of the campaign to clamp down hard on racism in football. His work on and off the field earned him the FWA's Footballer of the Year award.

Strangely for City, it was still a case of what could have been. They were knocked out of the Champions League, the trophy their Abu Dhabi paymasters wanted most of all, after a dramatic night in the quarter-final against Tottenham. Sterling thought he had scored the goal in added time to put them through but the celebrations were cut short by VAR technology which ruled Sergio Aguero was a fraction offside in the build-up.

That meant Tottenham progressed on away goals and, after another heart-stopping semi-final against Ajax, which was settled when Lucas Moura completed his hat-trick in injury time, they reached their first ever Champions League final. But that was the high point for Spurs: Liverpool finished their season in style with a 2-0 win in the all-English finale in Madrid. It was a game which could not possibly have lived up to the drama of their semi-final against Barcelona when they recovered from a 3-0 deficit in the first leg to win an incredible second leg by 4-0. This was a sixth European Cup for Liverpool and 750,000 people lined the streets of the city to welcome their heroes home.

There was a feeling that Liverpool and Manchester City would happily have swapped places and taken each other's trophy but it was fitting that they should each win a big prize.

Chelsea and Arsenal finished a long way back in the title chase but they did have the consolation of a Europa League final which was controversially staged in the Azerbaijan capital, Baku. For the first time a Champions League place was up for grabs for the winners but with Chelsea having already qualified, it was more important to Arsenal to win. In the end it was hardly a contest as an Eden Hazard-inspired Chelsea ran out easy winners by 4-1.

As for Manchester United, it was another miserable season as they continued to flounder in the post-Sir Alex Ferguson era. Fans and players turned against manager Jose Mourinho, who had been highly critical of the club's transfer policy, and the board felt the 'toxic' atmosphere had to change. Mourinho was sacked in December and in came the hero of their 1999 Champions League win, Ole Gunnar Solskjaer.

The Norwegian initially arrived as a loan boss from his club Molde but he made a good start to his reign at Old Trafford, winning his first six League games and pulling off a 3-1 Champions League win over PSG in Paris (after losing the first leg 2-0) to advance to the quarter-finals. There was a clamour from former players and pundits to give Solskjaer the job on a permanent basis and he eventually signed a three-year deal in March. But, by the end of the season, Solskjaer was coming under pressure, having won only two of his last 12 matches.

Though they finished one place below United, the season was a success for newly promoted Wolves. Boss Nuno Espirito Santo had them playing with a style which earned plaudits around the country and they thoroughly deserved the last Europa League qualifying spot. It could have been an even better season but they imploded in the FA Cup semi-final against Watford. Having been 2-0 up, they eventually lost 3-2 after extra time.

Down at the bottom, Brighton sacked boss Chris Hughton and replaced him with Swansea's Graham Potter. Owner Tony Bloom was not satisfied by seventeenth place, one spot above the drop zone. Huddersfield never looked likely to complete a second successive season in the Premier League and manager David Wagner left by mutual agreement five months into the campaign.

Fulham spent £100m in a bid to establish themselves in the top flight but sacked boss Slavisa Jokanovic then brought in Leicester title winner Claudio Ranieiri who couldn't work another miracle and left after three months. Scott Parker oversaw the last rites but they were already doomed.

Cardiff completed the trio of relegated clubs after a fraught season in which the tragic death in a plane crash of newly-signed £15m Argentinian striker Emiliano Sala from Nantes overshadowed events on the pitch.

Another air tragedy occurred at Leicester where owner Vichai Srivaddhanaprabha was one of five people killed in a helicopter crash within seconds of taking off from the centre circle following a game against West Ham in October. The city came out in force to mourn the popular owner who had given the locals such joy in helping to mastermind their 2016 title win.

In the Championship, Norwich went up as title winners while Sheffield United became the new kings of Yorkshire having taken advantage of a fading Leeds. Up from the play-offs came Aston Villa who beat Derby at Wembley.

Rotherham, Bolton and Ipswich plunged into League One. Bolton's season was characterised by behind-the-scenes arguments over the ownership and they eventually went into administration: they will start the new season on minus 12 points.

Up from League One came Luton and Barnsley, joined by Charlton from the play-off final. Wimbledon produced an incredible escape at the bottom under former player Wally Downes: at one point they were ten points adrift of safety. Plymouth, Walsall, Scunthorpe and Bradford were relegated.

Lincoln continued their rise under Danny Cowley as they took the League Two title and were joined on the promotion podium by Bury, MK Dons and Tranmere – the last promoted for a second season running. However, it was a sad demise for the oldest League club of them all, Notts County: they dropped into the National League with Yeovil as Sol Campbell orchestrated a great escape for Macclesfield.

National League champions Leyton Orient returned to the Football League after a two-year absence, along with Salford City who triumphed over Fylde in the Wembley play-off. David Beckham, Gary and Phil Neville, Nicky Butt and Ryan Giggs from the Class of 92 had backed Salford and were all there to see it. They had enjoyed many a Wembley triumph between them but this was a day to rival any from their playing days.

ACCRINGTON STANLEY

FOUNDATION

Accrington Football Club, founder members of the Football League in 1888, were not connected with Accrington Stanley. In fact both clubs ran concurrently between 1891 when Stanley were formed and 1895 when Accrington FC folded. Actually Stanley Villa was the original name, those responsible for forming the club living in Stanley Street and using the Stanley Arms as their meeting place. They became Accrington Stanley in 1893. In 1894–95 they joined the Accrington & District League, playing at Moorhead Park. Subsequently they played in the North-East Lancashire Combination and the Lancashire Combination before becoming founder members of the Third Division (North) in 1921, two years after moving to Peel Park. In 1962 they resigned from the Football League, were wound up, re-formed in 1963, disbanded in 1966 only to restart as Accrington Stanley (1968), returning to the Lancashire Combination in 1970.

AFC WIMBLEDON

FOUNDATION

While the history of AFC Wimbledon is straightforward since it was a new club formed in 2002, there were in effect two clubs operating for two years with Wimbledon connections. The other club was MK Dons, of course. In August 2001, the Football League had rejected the existing Wimbledon's application to move to Milton Keynes. In May 2002, they rejected local sites and were given permission to move by an independent commission set up by the Football League. AFC Wimbledon was founded in the summer of 2002 and held its first trials on Wimbledon Common. In subsequent years, there was considerable debate over the rightful home of the trophies obtained by the former Wimbledon football club. In October 2006, an agreement was reached between Milton Keynes Dons FC, its Supporters Association, the Wimbledon Independent Supporters Association and the Football Supporters Federation to transfer such trophies and honours to the London Borough of Merton.

ARSENAL

FOUNDATION

Formed by workers at the Royal Arsenal, Woolwich in 1886, they began as Dial Square (name of one of the workshops), and included two former Nottingham Forest players, Fred Beardsley and Morris Bates. Beardsley wrote to his old club seeking help and they provided the new club with a full set of red jerseys and a ball. The club became known as the 'Woolwich Reds' although their official title soon after formation was Woolwich Arsenal.

ASTON VILLA

FOUNDATION

Cricketing enthusiasts of Villa Cross Wesleyan Chapel, Aston, Birmingham decided to form a football club during the winter of 1874–75. Football clubs were few and far between in the Birmingham area and in their first game against Aston Brook St Mary's rugby team they played one half rugby and the other soccer. In 1876 they were joined by Scottish soccer enthusiast George Ramsay who was immediately appointed captain and went on to lead Aston Villa from obscurity to one of the country's top clubs in a period of less than ten years.

BOLTON WANDERERS

FOUNDATION

In 1874 boys of Christ Church Sunday School, Blackburn Street, led by their master Thomas Ogden, established a football club which went under the name of the school and whose president was vicar of Christ Church. Membership was 6d (two and a half pence). When their president began to lay down too many rules about the use of church premises, the club broke away and formed Bolton Wanderers in 1877, holding their earliest meetings at the Gladstone Hotel.

BRADFORD CITY

FOUNDATION

Bradford was a rugby stronghold around the turn of the 20th century but after Manningham RFC held an archery contest to help them out of financial difficulties in 1903, they were persuaded to give up the handling code and turn to soccer. So they formed Bradford City and continued at Valley Parade. Recognising this as an opportunity to spread the dribbling code in this part of Yorkshire, the Football League immediately accepted the new club's first application for membership of the Second Division.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Bradford City had an indifferent start to the 1981–82 season but turned things round with a 6-2 victory over York City on 12 September. That was the first of a run of nine consecutive League wins, which equalled the then club record and took them to the top of Division Four. The Bantams remained among the leaders throughout the season and won promotion after finishing second to Sheffield United.

BRIGHTON & HOVE ALBION

FOUNDATION

A professional club Brighton United was formed in November 1897 at the Imperial Hotel, Queen's Road, but folded in March 1900 after less than two seasons in the Southern League at the County Ground. An amateur team Brighton & Hove Rangers was then formed by some prominent United supporters and after one season at Withdean, decided to turn semi-professional and play at the County Ground. Rangers were accepted into the Southern League but folded in June 1901. John Jackson, the former United manager, organised a meeting at the Seven Stars public house, Ship Street on 24 June 1901 at which a new third club Brighton & Hove United was formed. They took over Rangers' place in the Southern League and pitch at County Ground. The name was changed to Brighton & Hove Albion before a match was played because of objections by Hove FC.

BRISTOL CITY

FOUNDATION

The name Bristol City came into being in 1897 when the Bristol South End club, formed three years earlier, decided to adopt professionalism and apply for admission to the Southern League after competing in the Western League. The historic meeting was held at the Albert Hall, Bedminster. Bristol City employed Sam Hollis from Woolwich Arsenal as manager and gave him £40 to buy players. In 1900 they merged with Bedminster, another leading Bristol club.

Original members of the Bristol & District League in 1892, this eventually became the Western League and Eastville Rovers adopted professionalism in 1897.

Although he was an early supporter of televised football, Burnley chairman Bob Lord quickly became a fierce opponent of the cameras. When the BBC announced they would show highlights of the Clarets' FA Cup replay against Bournemouth in January 1966, Lord banned the cameras from the ground and threatened to sue both the BBC and the Football Association.

BURTON ALBION

FOUNDATION

Once upon a time there were three Football League clubs bearing the name Burton. Then there were none. In reality it had been two. Originally Burton Swifts and Burton Wanderers competed in it until 1901 when they amalgamated to form Burton United. This club disbanded in 1910. There was no senior club representing the town until 1924 when Burton Town, formerly known as Burton All Saints, played in the Birmingham & District League, subsequently joining the Midland League in 1935–36. When the Second World War broke out the club fielded a team in a truncated version of the Birmingham & District League taking over from the club's reserves. But it was not revived in peacetime. So it was not until a further decade that a club bearing the name of Burton reappeared. Founded in 1950 Burton Albion made progress from the Birmingham & District League, too, then into the Southern League and because of its geographical situation later had spells in the Northern Premier League. In April 2009 Burton Albion restored the name of the town to the Football League competition as champions of the Blue Square Premier League.

CHARLTON ATHLETIC

FOUNDATION

The club was formed on 9 June 1905, by a group of 14- and 15-year-old youths living in streets by the Thames in the area which now borders the Thames Barrier. The club's progress through local leagues was so rapid that after the First World War they joined the Kent League where they spent a season before turning professional and joining the Southern League in 1920. A year later they were elected to the Football League's Division 3 (South).

DID YOU KNOW ?

Although they were a First Division team at the time, Charlton Athletic were required to take part in the end-of-season play-offs in 1986–87 to retain their top-flight position. The Addicks drew 1-1 on aggregate in the two-legged final against Leeds United. In the replay Peter Shirtliff's two extra-time goals ensured they avoided the drop.

CHELSEA

FOUNDATION

Chelsea may never have existed but for the fact that Fulham rejected an offer to rent the Stamford Bridge ground from Mr H. A. Mears who had owned it since 1904. Fortunately he was determined to develop it as a football stadium rather than sell it to the Great Western Railway and got together with Frederick Parker, who persuaded Mears of the financial advantages of developing a major sporting venue. Chelsea FC was formed in 1905 and applications made to join both the Southern League and Football League. The latter competition was decided upon because of its comparatively meagre representation in the south of England.

CHELTENHAM TOWN

FOUNDATION

Although a scratch team representing Cheltenham played a match against Gloucester in 1884, the earliest recorded match for Cheltenham Town FC was a friendly against Dean Close School on 12 March 1892. The School won 4–3 and the match was played at Prestbury (half a mile from Whaddon Road). Cheltenham Town played Wednesday afternoon friendlies at a local cricket ground until entering the Mid Gloucester League. In those days the club played in deep red coloured shirts and were nicknamed 'the Rubies'. The club moved to Whaddon Lane for season 1901–02 and changed to red and white colours two years later.

DID YOU KNOW?

Following Coventry City's adjourned annual meeting in February 1922 they were presented with a new strip in the local authority's colours of red, green and gold. This was worn for a couple of seasons but then discarded as it was believed to be the cause of bad luck.

CRAWLEY TOWN

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1896, Crawley Town initially entered the West Sussex League before switching to the mid-Sussex League in 1901, winning the Second Division in its second season. The club remained at such level until 1951 when it became members of the Sussex County League and five years later moved to the Metropolitan League while remaining as an amateur club. It was not until 1962 that the club turned semi-professional and a year later, joined the Southern League. Many honours came the club's way, but the most successful run was achieved in 2010–11 when they reached the fifth round of the FA Cup and played before a crowd of 74,778 spectators at Old Trafford against Manchester United. Crawley Town spent 48 years at the Town Mead ground before a new site was occupied at Broadfield in 1997, ideally suited to access from the neighbouring motorway. History was also made on 9 April when the team won promotion to the Football League after beating Tamworth 3-0 to stretch their unbeaten League record to 26 games. They finished the season with a Conference record points total of 105 and at the same time, established another milestone for the longest unbeaten run, having extended it to 30 matches by the end of the season.

DID YOU KNOW ?

When Crawley Town reached Round One of the FA Cup for the first time in their history, goalkeeper John Maggs played despite having suffered a broken bone in his hand. Maggs, the only experienced keeper on Crawley's books at the time, helped the club gain a 1-1 draw in the tie against Chelmsford City in November 1970 but they lost the replay and so missed out on a home game against Torquay United.

CRYSTAL PALACE

FOUNDATION

There was a Crystal Palace club as early as 1861 but the present organisation was born in 1905 after the formation of a club by the company that controlled the Crystal Palace (building) had been rejected by the FA, who did not like the idea of the Cup Final hosts running their own club. A separate company had to be formed and they had their home on the old Cup Final ground until 1915.

DERBY COUNTY

FOUNDATION

Derby County was formed by members of the Derbyshire County Cricket Club in 1884, when football was booming in the area and the cricketers thought that a football club would help boost finances for the summer game. To begin with, they sported the cricket club's colours of amber, chocolate and pale blue, and went into the game at the top immediately entering the FA Cup.

EVERTON

Enthusiasm was so great that in November 1879 they decided to expand membership and changed the name to Everton, playing in black shirts with a scarlet sash and nicknamed the 'Black Watch'. After wearing several other colours, royal blue was adopted in 1901.

EXETER CITY

FOUNDATION

Exeter City was formed in 1904 by the amalgamation of St Sidwell's United and Exeter United. The club first played in the East Devon League and then the Plymouth & District League. After an exhibition match between West Bromwich Albion and Woolwich Arsenal, which was held to test interest as Exeter was then a rugby stronghold, it was decided to form Exeter City. At a meeting at the Red Lion Hotel in 1908, the club turned professional.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Exeter City finished bottom of the Football League in 1994–95 but were spared automatic relegation as Conference champions Macclesfield Town's ground was ruled unfit to stage League football. The decision was a relief for the Grecians who failed to win any of their last 16 games in the run-in to the end of the season.

FLEETWOOD TOWN

FOUNDATION

Originally formed in 1908 as Fleetwood FC, it was liquidated in 1976. Re-formed as Fleetwood Town in 1977, it folded again in 1996. Once again, it was re-formed a year later as Fleetwood Wanderers, but a sponsorship deal saw the club's name immediately changed to Fleetwood Freeport through the local retail outlet centre. This sponsorship ended in 2002, but since then local energy businessman Andy Pilley took charge and the club has risen through the non-league pyramid until finally achieving Football League status in 2012 as Fleetwood Town.

FOREST GREEN ROVERS

FOUNDATION

A football club was recorded at Forest Green as early as October 1889, established by Rev Edward Peach, a local Congregationalist minister. This club joined the Mid-Gloucestershire League for 1894–95 but disappeared around 1896 and was reformed as Forest Green Rovers in 1898. Rovers affiliated to the Gloucestershire county FA from 1899–1900 and competed in local leagues, mostly the Stroud & District and Dursley & District Leagues before joining the Gloucestershire Senior League North in 1937, where they remained until 1968. They became founder members of the Gloucestershire County League in 1968 and progressed to the Hellenic League in 1975. Success over Rainworth MW in the 1982 FA Vase final at Wembley was the start of the club's rise up the pyramid, firstly to the Southern League for the 1982–83 season and then the Football Conference from 1998–99. Rovers reached the play-offs in 2014–15 and 2015–16, losing to Bristol Rovers and Grimsby Town respectively, before finally achieving their goal of a place in the Football League with their 3-1 Play-Off victory over Tranmere Rovers on 14 May 2017.

GILLINGHAM

FOUNDATION

The success of the pioneering Royal Engineers of Chatham excited the interest of the residents of the Medway Towns and led to the formation of many clubs including Excelsior. After winning the Kent Junior Cup and the Chatham District League in 1893, Excelsior decided to go for bigger things and it was at a meeting in the Napier Arms, Brompton, in 1893 that New Brompton FC came into being, buying and developing the ground which is now Priestfield Stadium. They changed their name to Gillingham in 1913, when they also changed their strip from black and white stripes to predominantly blue.

HUDDERSFIELD TOWN

FOUNDATION

A meeting, attended largely by members of the Huddersfield & District FA, was held at the Imperial Hotel in 1906 to discuss the feasibility of establishing a football club in this rugby stronghold. However, it was not until a man with both the enthusiasm and the money to back the scheme came on the scene that real progress was made. This benefactor was Mr Hilton Crowther and it was at a meeting at the Albert Hotel in 1908 that the club formally came into existence with an investment of £2,000 and joined the North-Eastern League.

The board was a gift from Dutch club PSV Eindhoven who played against the Terriers in a Festival of Britain match in May 1951. The scoreboard stood at the open end behind the goal until it was damaged around 1970 and then replaced with a manual version.

HULL CITY

FOUNDATION

The enthusiasts who formed Hull City in 1904 were brave men indeed. More than that, they were audacious for they immediately put the club on the map in this Rugby League fortress by obtaining a three-year agreement with the Hull Rugby League club to rent their ground! They had obtained quite a number of conversions to the dribbling code, before the Rugby League forbade the use of any of their club grounds by Association Football clubs. By that time, Hull City were well away, having entered the FA Cup in their initial season and the Football League, Second Division after only a year.

IPSWICH TOWN

FOUNDATION

Considering that Ipswich Town only reached the Football League in 1938, many people outside of East Anglia may be surprised to learn that this club was formed at a meeting held in the Town Hall as far back as 1878 when Mr T. C. Cobbold, MP, was voted president. Originally it was the Ipswich Association FC to distinguish it from the older Ipswich Football Club which played rugby. These two amalgamated in 1888 and the handling game was dropped in 1893.

LEEDS UNITED

FOUNDATION

Immediately the Leeds City club (founded in 1904) was wound up by the FA in October 1919, following allegations of illegal payments to players, a meeting was called by a Leeds solicitor, Mr Alf Masser, at which Leeds United was formed. They joined the Midland League, playing their first game in that competition in November 1919. It was in this same month that the new club had discussions with the directors of a virtually bankrupt Huddersfield Town who wanted to move to Leeds in an amalgamation. But Huddersfield survived even that crisis.

LEICESTER CITY

FOUNDATION

In 1884 a number of young footballers, who were mostly old boys of Wyggeston School, held a meeting at a house on the Roman Fosse Way and formed Leicester Fosse FC. They collected 9d (less than 4p) towards the cost of a ball, plus the same amount for membership. Their first professional, Harry Webb from Stafford Rangers, was signed in 1888 for 2s 6d (12p) per week, plus travelling expenses.

LEYTON ORIENT

FOUNDATION

There is some doubt about the foundation of Leyton Orient, and, indeed, some confusion with clubs like Leyton and Clapton over their early history. As regards the foundation, the most favoured version is that Leyton Orient was formed originally by members of Homerton Theological College who established Glyn Cricket Club in 1881 and then carried on through the following winter playing football. Eventually many employees of the Orient Shipping Line became involved and so the name Orient was chosen in 1888.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Leyton Orient's first game in top-flight football saw them face Arsenal at Brisbane Road in August 1962. The O's, watched by a crowd of 26,300, went two goals down before Derek Gibbs pulled one back late on. The season proved to be Orient's only one in the old First Division and they were relegated after finishing bottom of the table.

LINCOLN CITY

FOUNDATION

The original Lincoln Football Club was established in the early 1860s and was one of the first provisional clubs to affiliate to the Football Association. In their early years, they regularly played matches against the famous Sheffield Football Club and later became known as Lincoln Lindum. The present organisation was formed at a public meeting held in the Monson Arms Hotel in June 1884 and won the Lincolnshire Cup in only their third season. They were founder members of the Midland League in 1889 and that competition's first champions.

LIVERPOOL

FOUNDATION

But for a dispute between Everton FC and their landlord at Anfield in 1892, there may never have been a Liverpool club. This dispute persuaded the majority of Evertonians to quit Anfield for Goodison Park, leaving the landlord, Mr John Houlding, to form a new club. He originally tried to retain the name 'Everton' but when this failed, he founded Liverpool Association FC on 15 March 1892.

LUTON TOWN

FOUNDATION

Formed by an amalgamation of two leading local clubs, Wanderers and Excelsior a works team, at a meeting in Luton Town Hall in April 1885. The Wanderers had three months earlier changed their name to Luton Town Wanderers and did not take too kindly to the formation of another Town club but were talked around at this meeting. Wanderers had already appeared in the FA Cup and the new club entered in its inaugural season.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Macclesfield Town appointed former England international Paul Ince as manager in October 2006 after the club failed to win any of their first 16 League games. It took Ince four games before he achieved his first victory, a 1-0 defeat of Rochdale. That began a run of six wins in seven games to lift The Silkmen off the bottom of the table.

MANCHESTER CITY

FOUNDATION

Manchester City was formed as a limited company in 1894 after their predecessors Ardwick had been forced into bankruptcy. However, many historians like to trace the club's lineage as far back as 1880 when St Mark's Church, West Gorton added a football section to their cricket club. They amalgamated with Belle Vue for one season before splitting again under the name Gorton Association FC in 1884–85. In 1887 Gorton AFC turned professional and moved ground to Hyde Road under the new name Ardwick AFC.

MANCHESTER UNITED

FOUNDATION

Manchester United was formed as comparatively recently as 1902 after their predecessors, Newton Heath, went bankrupt. However, it is usual to give the date of the club's foundation as 1878 when the dining room committee of the carriage and waggon works of the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company formed Newton Heath L and YR Cricket and Football Club. They won the Manchester Cup in 1886 and as Newton Heath FC were admitted to the Second Division in 1892.

MANSFIELD TOWN

FOUNDATION

The club was formed as Mansfield Wesleyans in 1897, and changed their name to Mansfield Wesley in 1906 and Mansfield Town in 1910. This was after the Mansfield Wesleyan Chapel trustees had requested that the club change its name as 'it has no longer had any connection with either the chapel or school'. The new club participated in the Notts and Derby District League, but in the following season 1911–12 joined the Central Alliance.

DID YOU KNOW?

For many years the Millwall mascot was a figure dressed in a lion costume who would parade around the pitch before important games. However, in 1957 the club appointed Lenny the Lion, ventriloquist's dummy for children's entertainer Terry Hall and star of BBC's Lenny the Lion Show, to the position.

MORECAMBE

FOUNDATION

Several attempts to start a senior football club in a rugby stronghold finally succeeded on 7 May 1920 at the West View Hotel, Morecambe and a team competed in the Lancashire Combination for 1920–21. The club shared with a local cricket club at Woodhill Lane for the first season and a crowd of 3,000 watched the first game. The club moved to Roseberry Park, the name of which was changed to Christie Park after J.B. Christie who as President had purchased the ground.

NEWCASTLE UNITED

FOUNDATION

In October 1882 a club called Stanley, which had been formed in 1881, changed its name to Newcastle East End to avoid confusion with two other local clubs, Stanley Nops and Stanley Albion. Shortly afterwards another club, Rosewood, merged with them. Newcastle West End had been formed in August 1882 and they played on a pitch which was part of the Town Moor. They moved to Brandling Park in 1885 and St James' Park 1886 (home of Newcastle Rangers). West End went out of existence after a bad run and the remaining committee men invited East End to move to St James' Park. They accepted and, at a meeting in Bath Lane Hall in 1892, changed their name to Newcastle United.

NEWPORT COUNTY

FOUNDATION

In 1912 Newport County were formed following a meeting at The Tredegar Arms Hotel. A professional football club had existed in the town called Newport FC, but they ceased to exist in 1907. The first season as Newport County was in the second division of the Southern League. They started life playing at Somerton Park where they remained through their League years. They were elected to the Football League for the beginning of the 1920–21 season as founder members of Division 3. At the end of the 1987–88 season, they were relegated from the Football League and replaced by Lincoln City. On February 27 1989, Newport County went out of business and from the ashes Newport AFC was born. Starting down the pyramid in the Hellenic League, they eventally gained promotion to the Conference in 2011 and were promoted to the Football League after a play-off with Wrexham in 2013.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Northampton Town finished bottom of the Football League in 1993–94 but escaped automatic relegation because the home ground of Conference champions Kidderminster Harriers did not meet the League's minimum capacity requirement. The Cobblers won only nine matches during the season, finishing three points behind second to bottom club Darlington.

NORWICH CITY

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1902, largely through the initiative of two local schoolmasters who called a meeting at the Criterion Cafe, they were shocked by an FA Commission which in 1904 declared the club professional and ejected them from the FA Amateur Cup. However, this only served to strengthen their determination. New officials were appointed and a professional club established at a meeting in the Agricultural Hall in March 1905.

NOTTINGHAM FOREST

FOUNDATION

One of the oldest football clubs in the world, Nottingham Forest was formed at a meeting in the Clinton Arms in 1865. Known originally as the Forest Football Club, the game which first drew the founders together was 'shinney', a form of hockey. When they determined to change to football in 1865, one of their first moves was to buy a set of red caps to wear on the field.

There had been an Oxford United club around the time of World War I but only in the Oxfordshire Thursday League and there is no connection with the modern club which began as Headington in 1893, adding 'United' a year later. Playing first on Quarry Fields and subsequently Wootten's Fields, they owe much to a Dr Hitchings for their early development.

PETERBOROUGH UNITED

FOUNDATION

The old Peterborough & Fletton club, founded in 1923, was suspended by the FA during season 1932–33 and disbanded. Local enthusiasts determined to carry on and in 1934 a new professional club, Peterborough United, was formed and entered the Midland League the following year. Peterborough's first success came in 1939–40, but from 1955–56 to 1959–60 they won five successive titles. During the 1958–59 season they were undefeated in the Midland League. They reached the third round of the FA Cup, won the Northamptonshire Senior Cup, the Maunsell Cup and were runners-up in the East Anglian Cup.

PLYMOUTH ARGYLE

FOUNDATION

The club was formed in September 1886 as the Argyle Athletic Club by former public and private school pupils who wanted to continue playing the game. The meeting was held in a room above the Borough Arms (a coffee house), Bedford Street, Plymouth. It was common then to choose a local street/terrace as a club name and Argyle or Argyll was a fashionable name throughout the land due to Queen Victoria's great interest in Scotland.

PRESTON NORTH END

FOUNDATION

North End Cricket and Rugby Club, which was formed in 1863, indulged in most sports before taking up soccer in about 1879. In 1881 they decided to stick to football to the exclusion of other sports and even a 16–0 drubbing by Blackburn Rovers in an invitation game at Deepdale, a few weeks after taking this decision, did not deter them for they immediately became affiliated to the Lancashire FA.

DID YOU KNOW ?

A pre-war Preston North End Supporters' Club had an extremely brief life. Formed early in 1933, it folded at the end of the 1934–35 season. One of the club rules was that members should try to suppress barracking of the players from the terraces.

QUEENS PARK RANGERS

FOUNDATION

There is an element of doubt about the date of the foundation of this club, but it is believed that in either 1885 or 1886 it was formed through the amalgamation of Christchurch Rangers and St Jude's Institute FC. The leading light was George Wodehouse, whose family maintained a connection with the club until comparatively recent times. Most of the players came from the Queen's Park district so this name was adopted after a year as St Jude's Institute.

ROCHDALE

FOUNDATION

Considering the love of rugby in their area, it is not surprising that Rochdale had difficulty in establishing an Association Football club. The earlier Rochdale Town club formed in 1900 went out of existence in 1907 when the present club was immediately established and joined the Manchester League, before graduating to the Lancashire Combination in 1908.

SALFORD CITY

FOUNDATION

The origins of Salford City are obscure, the club having been established as Salford Central in 1940 and remained in minor competitions until 1963 when the name was changed to Salford Amateurs and they entered the Manchester League. In 1980 this club merged with another local club, Anson Villa, and adopted the name Salford. They were members of the Cheshire County League and then the North West Counties League. In 1990 Salford became Salford City and after gaining promotion to the Northern Premier League for 2008-09 they have since made rapid progress to achieve Football League status.

SCUNTHORPE UNITED

FOUNDATION

The year of foundation for Scunthorpe United has often been quoted as 1910, but the club can trace its history back to 1899 when Brumby Hall FC, who played on the Old Showground, consolidated their position by amalgamating with some other clubs and changing their name to Scunthorpe United. The year 1910 was when that club amalgamated with North Lindsey United as Scunthorpe and Lindsey United. The link is Mr W. T. Lockwood whose chairmanship covers both years.

Sheffield United's Bramall Lane ground was damaged by bombing during the Sheffield blitz of December 1940. Part of a stand was destroyed and the bombs left craters on the pitch. As a result United were unable to use the ground until the start of the 1941–42 season, either switching to their opponents' grounds or playing at Hillsborough.

SOUTHAMPTON

FOUNDATION

The club was formed by members of the St Mary's Church of England Young Men's Association at a meeting of the Y.M.A. in November 1885 and it was named as such. The name was changed to plain St Mary's during 1887–88 and did not become Southampton St Mary's until 1894, the inaugural season in the Southern League.

STEVENAGE

FOUNDATION

There have been several clubs associated with the town of Stevenage. Stevenage Town was formed in 1884. They absorbed Stevenage Rangers in 1955 and later played at Broadhall Way. The club went into liquidation in 1968 and Stevenage Athletic was formed, but they, too, followed a similar path in 1976. Then Stevenage Borough was founded. The Broadhall Way pitch was dug up and remained unused for three years. Thus the new club started its life in the modest surrounds of the King George V playing fields with a roped-off ground in the Chiltern League. A change of competition followed to the Wallspan Southern Combination and by 1980 the club returned to the council-owned Broadhall Way when "Borough" was added to the name. Entry into the United Counties League was so successful the league and cup were won in the first season. On to the Isthmian League Division Two and the climb up the pyramid continued. In 1995–96 Stevenage Borough won the Conference but was denied a place in the Football League as the ground did not measure up to the competition's standards. Subsequent improvements changed this and the 7,100 capacity venue became one of the best appointed grounds in non-league football. After winning elevation to the Football League the club dropped Borough from its title.

STOKE CITY

FOUNDATION

The date of the formation of this club has long been in doubt. The year 1863 was claimed, but more recent research by local club historian Wade Martin has uncovered nothing earlier than 1868, when a couple of Old Carthusians, who were apprentices at the local works of the old North Staffordshire Railway Company, met with some others from that works, to form Stoke Ramblers. It should also be noted that the old Stoke club went bankrupt in 1908 when a new club was formed.

SUNDERLAND

FOUNDATION

A Scottish schoolmaster named James Allan, working at Hendon Board School, took the initiative in the foundation of Sunderland in 1879 when they were formed as The Sunderland and District Teachers' Association FC at a meeting in the Adults School, Norfolk Street. Due to financial difficulties, they quickly allowed members from outside the teaching profession and so became Sunderland AFC in October 1880.

SWINDON TOWN

FOUNDATION

It is generally accepted that Swindon Town came into being in 1881, although there is no firm evidence that the club's founder, Rev. William Pitt, captain of the Spartans (an offshoot of a cricket club), changed his club's name to Swindon Town before 1883, when the Spartans amalgamated with St Mark's Young Men's Friendly Society.

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR

FOUNDATION

The Hotspur Football Club was formed from an older cricket club in 1882. Most of the founders were old boys of St John's Presbyterian School and Tottenham Grammar School. The Casey brothers were well to the fore as the family provided the club's first goalposts (painted blue and white) and their first ball. They soon adopted the local YMCA as their meeting place, but after a couple of moves settled at the Red House.

TRANMERE ROVERS

FOUNDATION

Formed in 1884 as Belmont they adopted their present title the following year and eventually joined their first league, the West Lancashire League, in 1889–90, the same year as their first success in the Wirral Challenge Cup. The club almost folded in 1899–1900 when all the players left en bloc to join a rival club, but they survived the crisis and went from strength to strength, winning the 'Combination' title in 1907–08 and the Lancashire Combination in 1913–14. They joined the Football League in 1921 from the Central League.

WALSALL

FOUNDATION

Two of the leading clubs around Walsall in the 1880s were Walsall Swifts (formed 1877) and Walsall Town (formed 1879). The Swifts were winners of the Birmingham Senior Cup in 1881, while the Town reached the 4th round (5th round modern equivalent) of the FA Cup in 1883. These clubs amalgamated as Walsall Town Swifts in 1888, becoming simply Walsall in 1895.

WEST BROMWICH ALBION

FOUNDATION

There is a well known story that when employees of Salter's Spring Works in West Bromwich decided to form a football club, they had to send someone to the nearby Association Football stronghold of Wednesbury to purchase a football. A weekly subscription of 2d (less than 1p) was imposed and the name of the new club was West Bromwich Strollers.

WIGAN ATHLETIC

FOUNDATION

Following the demise of Wigan Borough and their resignation from the Football League in 1931, a public meeting was called in Wigan at the Queen's Hall in May 1932 at which a new club, Wigan Athletic, was founded in the hope of carrying on in the Football League. WYCOMBE WANDERERS

FOUNDATION

In 1887 a group of young furniture trade workers called a meeting at the Steam Engine public house with the aim of forming a football club and entering junior football. It is thought that they were named after the famous FA Cup winners, The Wanderers, who had visited the town in 1877 for a tie with the original High Wycombe club. It is also possible that they played informally before their formation, although there is no proof of this.

YEOVIL TOWN

FOUNDATION

One of the prime movers of Yeovil football was Ernest J. Sercombe. His association with the club began in 1895 as a playing member of Yeovil Casuals, of which team he became vice-captain and in his last season 1899–1900, he was chosen to play for Somerset against Devon. Upon the reorganisation of the club, he became secretary of the old Yeovil Town FC and with the amalgamation with Petters United in 1914, he continued to serve until his resignation in 1930.

They won both their home games, defeating Turris and Bari but found it more difficult in Italy, losing 3-1 to Teramo. They needed to win their last game at Parma to reach the final but missed out after the game ended in a goalless draw.
